EVEASH FOUNDER

THE 7D STORY

Seven Dimensions was founded by Eve Ash in 1979, after Eve became inspired by John Cleese to produce comedy films so learning at work could be fun.

Over 700 videos and interactive training packages have been produced on leadership, communication and professional development for adults and schools.

NEW RELEASES in 2019 make this one of the most prolific years for Seven Dimensions. 40 new video programs for the Insights & Strategies Series and 150+ Microlearning videos including the new series 2 Minutes 2 Success. Over 250 e-learning courses are being built for release during 2019-2020.

AWARDS 7D has won 160 awards for creativity, excellence and outstanding achievement.

PRODUCTS include video streaming, e-learning courses, DVDs, workshops, keynotes and books.

EVE ASH and the 7D team have produced hundreds of short films, documentaries and TV episodes. Eve has been the winner of an Australian Businesswoman of the Year Award. She produced the Cutting Edge Communication and Insights & Strategies, and a new range of Microlearning videos. Eve worked with Olympian Cathy Freeman to create the multi award-winning Finding My Magic cartoons to help children build confidence, know their rights and stand up to bullying.

Her broadcast films include the award winning feature documentary, Shadow of Doubt and the 6-part TV series Undercurrent: Real Murder Investigation (2019) in which she stars. Her latest feature documentary Man on the Bus is now on the international film festival circuit. Eve has written three books and is a popular keynote speaker.

150 CUTTING EDGE COMEDY PROGRAMS

Cutting Edge Corporation is a simulated company created by psychologist Eve Ash and comedienne Erin Brown. The managers and staff are constantly making mistakes and fixing problems. Despite the hilarious communication disasters, each program is packed with powerful lessons. Filmed in LA, these programs feature many brilliant comedy performers, led by Erin Brown as Carol, and Emmy Award winner Kim Estes, as Marcus, the boss.

There are 150 titles in the Cutting Edge Communication Comedy Series, including 60 English programs. All videos include PDF resources.

Combining psychology, comedy and linguistics

Eve Ash, Erin Brown and English language expert Dr Fran Byrnes bring you the opportunity to experience the power of comedy to learn leadership, communication and English language skills, through these 150 remarkable best selling comedy programs.

VIEWER FEEDBACK ★★★★★

Like a sit com! I want more.

I can't wait to show them more of Cutting Edge.

Original and very funny, and make their points very well.

What an amazing response ... the engagement was brilliant.

Easy to follow and entertaining.

Ideal length and very engaging.

The points are summarized very clearly.

Really relevant to what happens at work.

MAN ON THE BUS

Can a secret change who you are?

“ I thought I was from a normal Jewish migrant family until I found clues that led me to a man on the bus ”

MAN ON THE BUS

Documentary 84 minutes

A film by Eve Ash

Mysterious events unfold and reveal how Martha, a Polish holocaust survivor, managed to lead a double life in Australia. The fun loving artist and doting mother, died without ever revealing her secret.

The film follows Martha's daughter Eve, over a decade, as she unlocks the mystery behind the streets named Eve and Martha and some home movies showing a man looking lovingly into the lens.

Eve explores her parents' holocaust survival and her father's heroic escape from a concentration camp. And when a 'doppelgänger' contacts Eve, her life is forever altered, as she uncovers lies, love and the family secret that led her to rewrite her entire life.

'incredible story, absolutely engrossing'

'unique, engaging... with surprises galore'

'Man on the Bus is told with cinematic flair and a ton of heart'

'Honest and unafraid, the film reveals truths that are not always well received'
